STATION MASTER'S NOTES

After the full house and fun experienced with Timeless, we followed with the musical treat delivered by Dielle's Acoustic Club. Then we really raised the roof with an amazing Queen tribute. The band looking more like Queen than the original, had superb musicians and roused the full house to a pitch of excitement never seen before. We followed this with Bob Drury's tribute to Neil Diamond. A great sing-along-show. So, what's next? After our very own Being of Sound Mind, we have a return from White Cobra, who brought us Scaramouche, with Glorious, the story of Florence Foster-Jenkins. That will be followed by a Skiffle and Song sing-along evening with all profits going to local Hayling charities. Then the not-to-be-missed HIYA at the end of June with Benny Manhattan and the Caponi Diamond. Wow, great times ahead!

Painting with Shadows:

Laurie's discussion on the art of stage lighting was intended to show our creative teams what could be achieved and how, in conjunction with all aspects of stage design, we could enhance a director's vision of a piece. How new technology, additive colour mixing, set design, costume, props and décor can be changed and brought to life by careful lighting design. Three HIADS directors joined Laurie for that session, but if you missed it and would like to attend, Laurie is planning further discussion. Just let us know if you're interested.

BEING OF SOUND MIND

Why does the will stipulate that they have to survive the night in the house to get the money (what is the matter with the house, who are going to survive the night - who will stay and who will leave, who/how many will get the money?)

THE VICAR OF DIBLEY - Ian Gower and Paul Mayhew-Archer
Reading Monday 11th June - Casting Monday 18th June
Characters 5 male / 3 female

"This iconic and brilliantly funny TV series has been cleverly adapted as a stage play with wit and humour throughout. Taken primarily from series 1 and 2 the writers have condensed some of the most popular sketches, including the Vicar's arrival; her Lent money raising campaign; Owen's proposal of marriage; Hugo and Alice's first kiss; the Hen party and finally their wedding ceremony.

The play features ALL of the original characters, each with their individual style and humour. There is the Vicar, Geraldine of course, with her ample bosom and bob hair cut; David as chairman of everything Dibley; Hugo his awkward son who has a dyeing passion for Alice the Verger who has a happy, naive fantasy outlook on life; Frank Pickles who gets in pickles with his minutes; Owen the local ruddy and rude farmer; Jim who can't differentiate between yes and no and last but not least Mrs. Cropley who knits and makes inedible concoctions.

Most of the audience will know the TV series and therefore have certain visions and expectations so I will be trying to entice those original characters on to our stage. The action takes place over 22 scenes in 2 acts oscillating between the Parish hall and the Vicarage."

Age Ranges: The vicar is a young middle age; Alice and Hugo must be compatible; David old enough to be Hugo's father, whilst the remaining cast are middle to elderly.
